The New Library of Psychoanalysis

2011

Edited by ALESSANDRA LEMMA, Tavistock and Portman NHS Foundation Trust, London
Assistant Editor, ANNE PATTERSON

Foreign Rights Editor: CAMILLA FERRIER, The Paterson Agency
Former Editors: DANA BIRKSTED-BREEN, DAVID TUCKETT, ELIZABETH SPILLIUS, and SUSAN BUDD

The New Library of Psychoanalysis is published by Routledge in association with the Institute of Psychoanalysis, London. Its purpose is to facilitate a greater and more widespread appreciation of psychoanalysis and to provide a forum for increasing mutual understanding between psychoanalysts and those in other disciplines. The series also aims to make some of the work of Continental and other non-English speaking analysts more readily available to English-speaking readers, and to increase the interchange of ideas between British and American analysts.
wanting to learn more about Winnicott’s theories and their impact
Reading Winnicott will be essential reading for all students
Areas of discussion include:
• illusion and transitional phenomena
• aggression and destructiveness
• the relational environment and the place of infantile sexuality
• theory and practice of psychoanalysis of adults and children.

As such Reading Winnicott will be essential reading for all students wanting to learn more about Winnicott’s theories and their impact on psychoanalysis and the wider field of mental health.

Reading French Psychoanalysis
Edited by Dana Birksted-Breen, and Sara Flanders, both Training and Supervising Analysts, British Psychoanalytical Society, UK, and Alain Gibeault, Training Analyst of the Paris Psychoanalytical Society, France
In this book, Dana Birksted-Breen and Sara Flanders of the British Psychoanalytical Society, and Alain Gibeault of the Paris Psychoanalytical Society provide an overview of how French psychoanalysis has developed since Lacan. Focusing primarily on the work of psychoanalysts from the French Psychoanalytical Association and from the Paris Psychoanalytical Society, the two British psychoanalysts view the evolution of theory as it appears to them from the outside, while the French psychoanalyst explains and elaborates from inside the French psychoanalytic discourse. Seminal and representative papers have been chosen to illuminate what is special about French thinking. A substantial general introduction argues in favour of the specificity of ‘French psychoanalysis’, tracing its early influences and highlighting specific contemporary developments.

Projective Identification
The Fate of a Concept

Edited by Elizabeth Spillius, Training and Supervising Psychoanalyst, British Psychoanalytical Society, UK, and Edna O’Shaughnessy, British Psychoanalytical Society, London, UK

In this book Elizabeth Spillius and Edna O’Shaughnessy explore the development of the concept of projective identification, which had important antecedents in the work of Freud and others, but was given a specific name and definition by Melanie Klein. They describe Klein’s published and unpublished views on the topic, and then consider the way the concept has been variously described, evolved, accepted, rejected and modified by analysts of different schools of thought and in various locations – Britain, Western Europe, North America and Latin America.

Foreword by Dale Boesky

This book explores the clinical processes of psychoanalysis by charting modern developments in logic and applying them to the study of insight. Offering an Avoiding Emotions, Living Emotions

Antonino Ferro, in private practice, Pavia, Italy
Translated by Ian Harvey

Avoiding Emotions, Living Emotions explores the psychoanalytic encounter and examines how emotions are formed and experienced by both the patient and analyst. The author narrates key theoretical concepts through the presentation of clinical material from adult and child analysis and emphasises the importance of being able to foster these narrations.

Offering new insights into how the mind works, topics of discussion include:
- Bion’s thinking and its fertilization: clinical implications
- variations on transference and countertransference
- image and narration.

Providing the reader with clinical exercises and case reports, this book will be of great interest to psychoanalysts, psychotherapists and psychiatrists, as well as being a helpful tool in psychoanalytic and psychotherapeutic work on a day-to-day basis.

Secret Passages

The Theory and Technique of Interpsychic Relations

Stefano Bolognini, Psychiatrist and Training and Supervising Analyst and President of the Italian Psychoanalytic Society, Italy

Translated by Gina Atkinson

Foreword by Glen O. Gabbard

“We should all be grateful to Stefano Bolognini for leading the way for the rest of us to follow. He has blazed a trail, and now it is incumbent upon us to make our way along that trail and join him in the new country of global psychoanalysis.” - Glen O. Gabbard, From the Foreword

Secret Passages provides a theoretical and clinical exploration of the field of psychoanalysis. It looks at the pivotal relationship between analyst and client and its importance to the psychoanalytic process. Offering a uniquely global perspective, Bolognini considers the different trends in contemporary psychoanalysis, charting a course between the innovative and traditional.

Bion Today

Edited by Chris Mawson, Training and Supervising Analyst, British Psychoanalytical Society, UK

“This is a very stimulating, at times almost provocative, book. It will make a fresh and valuable contribution to our thinking about the nature and significance of Bion’s work today.” - Betty Joseph, Distinguished Fellow of the British Psychoanalytical Society, UK

Bion Today explores how Bion’s work is used in contemporary settings; how his ideas have been applied at the level of the individual, the group and the organisation; and which phenomena have been made more comprehensible through the lenses of his concepts. The book introduces distinctive psychoanalytic contributions to show the ways in which distinguished analysts have explored and developed the ideas of Wilfred Bion.

The Intimate Room

Theory and Technique of the Analytic Field

Giuseppe Civitarese, psychiatrist, Full Member, Italian Psychoanalytic Society (SPI) and International Psychoanalytical Association (IPA)

“Not many authors would be able to negotiate a path through this complex, progressively expanding universe while at the same time maintaining a holographic and multidimensional vision of psychoanalysis. Giuseppe Civitarese is surely one of the few – the very few – who have this capability.” - Antonino Ferro, From the Foreword

The Intimate Room provides an original exploration of psychoanalytic thought, showing how contemporary psychoanalysis seeks to answer the challenges raised by today’s post-modern culture.
Offering a deeply personal and insightful reading of Bion, this book acts as a stimulating guide to the development of the theory of the analytic field and both its technical and clinical implications. As such topics of discussion include:

- the concept of the internal setting
- the rhetoric of interpretation
- the ‘subversive’ notion of Nachträglichkeit
- the role played by characters in analytic discourse
- the bi-personal field as virtual reality
- new concepts of transference.

Allowing the reader to engage with the inner space of analysis, The Intimate Room will be of interest to psychoanalysts, psychotherapists and all those with an interest in the field of psychoanalysis. It will also be a useful tool in psychoanalytic and psychotherapeutic work on a day-to-day basis.

Betweenity:

A Discussion of the Concept of Borderline

Judy Gammelgaard, Psychoanalyst, Denmark

Translated by Karen MacLean and Caitlin Madden

From its inception psychoanalysis has sought to effect a cure through the therapeutic relationship between analyst and analysand. Betweenity looks at what happens when the established framework of the psychoanalytic process is challenged by those with borderline personalities.

In this book Judy Gammelgaard looks at how we might understand the analysand who is unable to engage with therapy and how we might bring them to a point where they are able to do so.

Areas of discussion include:

- the border between psychiatry and psychoanalysis
- early mother-child relationships
- the splitting of the ego.

This book will be essential reading for all psychoanalysts, psychotherapists and practitioners wishing to learn more about working with borderline personality structures and disorders.

Translated by Sophie Leighton, and

Supervising Psychoanalyst, British Psychoanalytical Society, UK

Richard Lucas, was a consultant psychiatrist at St. Ann’s Hospital, London, UK, and a member of the British Psychoanalytical Society, UK

“In this admirably lucid book Dr Richard Lucas demonstrates that psychoanalysis has much to contribute to the treatment of seriously disturbed and disturbing psychiatric patients… I sincerely hope it will be read by a wide, professional, national and international audience.”

- Carine Minne, From the Preface

The Psychotic Wavelength provides a psychoanalytical framework for clinicians to use in everyday general psychiatric practice and discusses how psychoanalytic ideas can be of great value when used in the treatment of seriously disturbed and disturbing psychiatric patients with psychoses, including both schizophrenia and the affective disorders.

In this book Richard Lucas suggests that when clinicians are faced with psychotic patients, the primary concern should be to make sense of what is happening during their breakdown. He refers to this as tuning into the psychotic wavelength, a process that allows clinicians to distinguish between, and appropriately address, the psychotic and non-psychotic parts of the personality. He argues that if clinicians can find and identify the psychotic wavelength, they can more effectively help the patient to come to terms with the realities of living with a psychotic disorder.

Doubt, Conviction and the Analytic Process

Selected Papers of Michael Feldman

Michael Feldman, Training Analyst, British Psychoanalytical Society, UK
Edited by Betty Joseph

In this book, Feldman draws the reader into experiencing how the clinical interaction unfolds within a session. In doing so, he develops some of the implications of the important pioneering work of such analysts as Klein, Rosenfeld and Joseph, demonstrating ways in which the patient feels driven to communicate to the analyst, not only in order to be understood by him, but also in order to affect him.

The author’s detailed descriptions of the clinical process allow the reader to follow the actual process that enables the patient to get into contact with thoughts and feelings of which he or she was previously unconscious or only vaguely aware.

Feldman makes the reader aware of the constant dynamic interaction between the patient and the analyst, each affecting the other. He shows how the analyst has to find a balance between doubt, uncertainty and confusion in himself and through this process may arrive at an understanding of what is happening, and by formulating this understanding the analyst can make a significant contribution to the process of psychic change.

Rediscovering Psychoanalysis

Thinking and Dreaming, Learning and Forgetting

Thomas H. Ogden, Director, Center for the Advanced Study of the Psychoses, San Francisco, USA

Rediscovering Psychoanalysis demonstrates how, by attending to one’s own idiosyncratic ways of thinking, feeling, and responding to patients, the psychoanalyst can develop a “style” of his or her own, a way of practicing that is a living process originating, to a large degree, from the personality and experience of the analyst.

Throughout this text, Thomas Ogden offers ways of revitalizing and reinventing the exchange between analyst and patient in each session.

Mind Works

Technique and Creativity in Psychoanalysis

Antonino Ferro, in private practice, Pavia, Italy

In Mind Works Antonino Ferro uses clinical material such as detailed reports of sessions, together with client’s analytic histories, to develop Bion’s original findings and illustrate complex concepts in the field of psychoanalytic technique.

Ferro suggests that dreaming is a fundamental moment in analytic work, and describes how dreams can go beyond the present to become a continuous act of the mind in the waking state, allowing internal and external stimuli to be transformed into thoughts and emotions.

Psychoanalysis Comparable and Incomparable

The Evolution of a Method to Describe and Compare Psychoanalytic Approaches

David Tuckett, Roberto Basile, Dana Birksted-Breen, Tomas Bohm, Paul Denis, Antonino Ferro, Helmut Hinz, Arne Jemstedt, Paola Mariotti, and Johan Schubert

Psychoanalysis Comparable and Incomparable describes the rationale and ongoing development of a six year programme of meetings conducted by the European Psychoanalytic Federation. This book explores ways for psychoanalysts using different approaches to learn from each other when they present their work to each other, and provides tools for the individual practitioner to examine and improve his own approach.
Time, Space and Phantasy

Rosine Jozef Perelberg, Training and Supervising Analyst, British Psychoanalytical Society, UK

“This is an exceptional volume that establishes lines of communication between colleagues from countries that are marked by different traditions. Through this, Rosine Perelberg makes her own original and creative contribution to psychoanalysis.”

- André Green, Past President of the Société Psychanalytique de Paris and Past Vice President of the International Psychoanalytic Association

Time, Space and Phantasy examines the connections between time, space, phantasy and sexuality in clinical practice. It explores the subtleties of the encounter between patient and analyst, addressing how aspects of the patient’s unconscious past are actualised in the present, producing new meanings that can be re-translated to the past.

Constructions and the Analytic Field

Domenico Chianese, Psychiatrist, and Training Analyst, Rome, Italy

Constructions and the Analytic Field questions the relationship between psychoanalysis, history and literature. Chianese examines Freud’s writing, as well as the impressions of analytic method reflected in contemporary writers such as Thomas Mann, and historical writings from both sides of the Atlantic. Drawing on persuasive clinical examples, he argues that psychoanalysis creates a ‘scenic space’ between analysand and analyst, a theatrical space wherein the cast of the patient’s interior world enter and exit from the scene.

Projected Shadows
Psychoanalytic Reflections on the Representation of Loss in European Cinema

Edited by Andrea Sabbadini, in private practice, London, UK
Foreword by Glen O. Gabbard
“...a state-of-the-art account of where we are today with the study of cinema through a psychoanalytic lens. Sabbadini has brought together a group of gifted authors who show that methodologies continue to evolve, while, at the same time, we can still mine the ore of the time honored traditions.” - Glen O. Gabbard, From the Foreword
Projected Shadows presents a new collection of essays exploring films from a psychoanalytic perspective, focusing specifically on the representation of loss in European cinema. This theme is discussed in its many aspects, including: loss of hope and innocence, of youth, of consciousness, of freedom and loss through death.

Psychoanalysis as Therapy and Storytelling

Antonino Ferro, in private practice, Pavia, Italy
Translated by Philip Slotkin
Psychoanalysis as Therapy and Storytelling examines psychoanalysis from two perspectives – as a cure for psychic suffering, and as a series of stories told between patient and analyst.
Antonino Ferro uses numerous clinical examples to investigate how narration and interpretation are interconnected in the analytic session.
Psychoanalytic clinicians and theoreticians alike will find the innovative approach to the analytic session described here of great interest.

This Art of Psychoanalysis
Dreaming Undreamt Dreams and Interrupted Cries

Thomas H. Ogden, Director, Center for the Advanced Study of the Psychoses, San Francisco, USA

“This Art of Psychoanalysis is a fascinating book, one of the most original psychoanalytic works in recent years.” - Emanuel Berman, University of Haifa, Israel, The International Journal of Psychoanalysis

This Art of Psychoanalysis offers a unique perspective on psychoanalysis that features a new way of conceptualizing the role of dreaming in human psychology. In this volume, Thomas Ogden builds on the work of Freud, Klein, Winnicott, and Bion, and explores the idea that all human psychopathology is a manifestation of a breakdown of the individual’s capacity to dream his experience.

The Telescoping of Generations
Listening to the Narcissistic Links Between Generations

Haydée Faimberg, Training and Supervising Analyst, Paris Psychoanalytical Society, France

“The Telescoping of Generations is a book about analytic listening, listening to the unspoken motives of previous generations. Haydée Faimberg brings a novel and unique perspective to the practice of psychoanalysis.” - Arnold H. Modell, Training Analyst, Boston Psychoanalytic Institute and Clinical Professor of Psychiatry, Harvard Medical School, USA

The Telescoping of Generations is an original perspective on the transmission of narcissistic links between generations. This attention to unconscious transmission gives fresh understanding of the psychic consequences of experiences such as genocide and terrorism.

Arnold M. Cooper – Winner of the 2009 Sigourney Award!

The Quiet Revolution in American Psychoanalysis

Selected Papers of Arnold M. Cooper

Arnold M. Cooper, Weill-Cornell Medical College, and Columbia University, New York, USA

Introduced and Edited by Elizabeth L. Auchincloss

This book brings together for the first time in one volume selected papers by one of the leading contemporary intellectual figures in the field of psychoanalysis, Arnold M. Cooper. Cooper’s own contributions to psychoanalytic clinical theory have changed our understanding of work with patients to include a greater appreciation of narcissistic and pre-Oedipal themes in development and of the human encounter embedded in the psychoanalytic situation.

The Work of Psychic Figurability

Mental States Without Representation

César Botella, and Sára Botella, both in private practice, France

Introduction by Michael Parsons

Based on experience of analytic practice and illustrated by fascinating clinical material, this book addresses what the authors call the work of figurability as a way of outlining the passage from the unrepresentable to the representational.

Hb: 978-1-58391-814-2: £65.00/$120.00

In Pursuit of Psychic Change

The Betty Joseph Workshop

Edited by Edith Hargreaves, British Psychoanalytical Society, UK, and Arturo Varchevker, in private practice, London, UK

“The book begins with an admirable introduction by the editors... The quality of these papers emerging from the Betty Joseph Workshop is outstanding.” - Jean Arundale, British Journal of Psychotherapy

This book is a celebration of Betty Joseph’s work, and the work of a group of analysts who have joined her to think about particular kinds of difficulties encountered in the analytic situation.

The Importance of Fathers

A Psychoanalytic Re-evaluation

Judith Trowell, Consultant Child and Adolescent Psychiatrist, Tavistock Clinic, London, UK, and Alicia Etchegoyen, Psychoanalyst and Child Analyst, Chelsea and Westminster Hospital, London, UK

Foreword by Anton Obholzer

It is widely acknowledged that children need structure, security, stability and attachment to develop and flourish, and that the father is an important part of this. Issues such as high divorce rates, new family structures, increased mobility, women’s liberation and contraception are very common in society.
This book sets out to explore what has happened to men and to fathers during all these changes and transitions.

The Violence of Interpretation
From Pictogram to Statement

Piera Aulagnier, was in private practice, France

Preface by Joyce MacDougal, and Nathalie Zaltzman

Translated by Alan Sheridan

“The single most important contribution to the psychoanalytic understanding of psychosis published during the last twenty years.”
- Otto F. Kernberg, President, International Psychoanalytical

Association

Published in English for the first time, this is a seminal work by an original and creative analytical thinker. Piera Aulagnier’s The Violence of Interpretation bridges the work of Winnicott and Lacan, putting forward a theory of psychosis based on children’s early experiences.

Ordinary People and Extra-Ordinary Protections
A Post-Kleinian Approach to the Treatment of Primitive Mental States

Judith L. Mitrani, Psychoanalytic Center of California and the Los Angeles
Institute and Society for Psychoanalytic Studies, USA

Foreword by James S. Grotstein

“Judith Mitrani’s latest work beautifully illuminates some incompletely explored areas of psychoanalytic thinking... Throughout this work we become impressed with the presence of a versatile and innovative observer, thinker, clinician, and integrator.” - James S. Grotstein, North American Vice President, International Psychoanalytical
Association

Many people come to analysis appearing quite ‘ordinary’ on the surface. However, once below that surface, we frequently come into contact with something quite unexpected: ‘extra-ordinary protections’ created to keep at bay any awareness of deeply traumatic happenings occurring at some point in life. Judith Mitrani investigates the development and the function of these protections.

The Dove that Returns, The Dove that Vanishes
Paradox and Creativity in Psychoanalysis

Michael Parsons, in private practice, London, UK

“A book of clarity and poignancy... This is a very highly recommended book both because of the importance of Parsons’s ideas, and because of his engaging and moving manner of telling a story.”
- Steven Cooper, Journal of the American Psychoanalytical

Association

The nature of psychoanalysis seems contradictory – deeply personal, subjective and intuitive, yet requiring systematic theory and principles of technique. In The Dove that Returns, The Dove that Vanishes, Michael Parsons explores the tension of this paradox.

André Green, Member of the Paris Psychoanalytical Society,
France, and Honorary Member of the British Psychoanalytical
Society, UK

Translated by Alan Sheridan

“This book is a testament to André Green’s passionate search for the truth in Freud’s unanswered questions about affect.”
- Henri F. Smith, The International Journal of Psychoanalysis

The Fabric of Affect in the Psychoanalytic Discourse is a seminal work on one of the most neglected topics in psychoanalysis, that of affect.

The Dead Mother
The Work of André Green
Edited by Gregorio Kohon, in private practice, London, UK
Preface by R. Horacio Etchegoyen
“Readers will find this a valuable book – for the lively dialogue between Green and Kohon... and for the glimpse of the walls in the present psychoanalytic scene, which Green has both run up against and surmounted.” - Edna O’Shaughnessy, The International Journal of Psychoanalysis

The Dead Mother brings together original essays in honour of André Green. Written by distinguished psychoanalysts, the collection develops the theme of his most famous paper, and describes the value of the dead mother to other areas of clinical interest.

A Mind of One’s Own
A Psychoanalytic View of Self and Object
Robert Caper, Psychoanalytic Center of California and UCLA School of Medicine, USA
Preface by Betty Joseph
“Caper writes with clarity and lightness of touch synthesising ideas and untangling confusions in a delightfully direct style free from fluff or wordiness.” - P. Garvey, Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy
This collection of papers by Robert Caper focuses on the importance of distinguishing self from object in psychological development. By achieving this mental distinction the patient then benefits from the therapeutic effects of psychoanalysis.

A History of Child Psychoanalysis

Claudine Geissmann, University of Bordeaux, and in private practice, France, and the late Pierre Geissmann
Forewords by Serge Lebovici, Anne-Marie Sandler, and Hanna Segal
“This is a fascinating account from which the reader will have to draw his own conclusion.” - Journal of the British Association of Psychotherapists

Claudine and Pierre Geissmann trace the history and development of child analysis over the last century and assess the contributions made by pioneers of the discipline, whose efforts to expand its theoretical foundations led to conflict between schools of thought, most notably to the rift between Anna Freud and Melanie Klein.

The New Library of Psychoanalysis was launched in 1987 in association with the Institute of Psychoanalysis, London. Its purpose is to facilitate a greater and more widespread appreciation of psychoanalysis and to provide a forum for increasing mutual understanding between psychoanalysts and those working in other disciplines such as the social sciences, medicine, philosophy, history, linguistics, literature and the arts. It aims to represent different trends both in British psychoanalysis and in psychoanalysis generally. The New Library of Psychoanalysis is well placed to make available to the English-speaking world psychoanalytic writings from other European countries and to increase the interchange of ideas between British and American psychoanalysts.

The Institute, together with the British Psychoanalytical Society, runs a low-fee psychoanalytic clinic, organizes lectures and scientific events concerned with psychoanalysis and publishes the International Journal of Psychoanalysis. It also runs one of only two UK training courses in psychoanalysis which leads to membership of the International Psychoanalytical Association – the body which preserves internationally agreed standards of training, of professional entry, and of professional ethics and practice for psychoanalysis as initiated and developed by Sigmund Freud. Distinguished members of the Institute have included Michael Balint, Wilfred Bion, Ronald Fairbairn, Anna Freud, Ernest Jones, Melanie Klein, John Rickman and Donald Winnicott.

Previous General Editors include Dana Birksted-Breen, David Tuckett, Elizabeth Spillius and Susan Budd. Previous and current Members of the Advisory Board include Liz Allison, Christopher Bollas, Ronald Britton, Catalina Bronstein, Donald Campbell, Rosemary Davies, Giovanna di Ceglie, Sara Flanders, Stephen Grosz, John Keene, Eglė Laufé, Juliet Mitchell, Michael Parsons, Rosine Jozef Perelberg, Richard Rusbridger, Mary Target, and David Taylor.
