

Figure 3.8

Adverb: Owner's Manual

Congratulations on your wise purchase of an ADVERB. Your ADVERB is very useful for answering one of the following questions:

When?

Where?

Why?

How often?

To what extent?

In what manner?

Often, groups of words decide to get together to do ADVERB-like work, and when they do, we call these groups of words ADVERBIALS. ADVERBIALS may be phrases or clauses that answer the questions that ADVERBS answer.