

Figure 6.1 Sample Two-Year Grammar Calendar

Year One
	September	Simple and compound sentences
	October	Adverb clauses
	November	Review of two months, adding sentence slots if applicable
	December	Appositives and adjective clauses
	January	Participial phrases
	February through May	Practice all sentence variations in student writing
Year Two
	September	Review compound sentences
	October	Review use and rules for introductory items (adverb clauses, participial, parenthetical, and prepositional phrases)
	November	Review use and rules for essential and nonessential items (appositives, adjective clauses, participial and parenthetical phrases)
	December	Absolute phrases
	January	Review three guiding principles: punctuation of compound sentences, introductory items, and nonessential elements
	February through May	Continue to use sentence variation in student writing assignments and editing process, adding subject-verb agreement and pronoun case, if applicable