I. EMERGENCE THROUGH CONVERGENCE: The Puzzles of Social Order

INTRODUCTORY ESSAY: THIS DESERTED ISLAND IS OUT OF ORDER
The classic novel The Lord of the Flies helps us see that social order is both a product of our own making and something much more powerful than the sum of its parts. We move from the social facts of Durkheim to more contemporary takes on the enigma of social order.

Classical Connections: Emile Durkheim

1. Emile Durkheim, The Rules of Sociological Method
2. Emile Durkheim, The Division of Labor in Society
3. Emile Durkheim, Suicide
4. Emile Durkheim, Elementary Forms of Religious Life

Contemporary Extensions: Social Order Re-Wired

5. Talcott Parsons and Edward Shils, “Categories of the Orientation and Organization of Action”
6. Harold Garfinkel, Studies in Ethnomethodology
7. Peter Berger and Thomas Luckmann, The Social Construction of Reality

II. NETWORKS OF CAPITAL: Dimensions of Global Capitalism

INTRODUCTORY ESSAY: SALVAGING WHAT WALL STREET LEFT BEHIND
Today’s global financial crisis reminds us that economic troubles have profound consequences for social relationships. Marx sets the stage for a lively discussion of the role the economy plays in our global age, and Wallerstein, Castells, and Bourdieu provide contemporary visions of the many links between the economic and the social.

Classical Connections: Karl Marx

8. Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels, The German Ideology
9. Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels, Manifesto of the Communist Party
10. Karl Marx, Capital
11. Karl Marx, “Economic and Philosphic Manuscripts of 1844”
Contemporary Extensions: Capital Re-Wired

15. Pierre Bourdieu, Distinction

III. PATHWAY TO MELTDOWN: Theorizing the Dark Side of Modernity

INTRODUCTORY ESSAY: YOUR SMART PHONE MIGHT BE AN EVIL GENIUS
Smart phones are but one example of how our social world is becoming more and more shaped by technology. From the pious Puritans of Weber to the one-dimensional men of the Frankfurt School, we explore the pitfalls and promises of a rationalized, modern society.

Classical Connections: Max Weber

Contemporary Extensions: The Rational Society Re-Wired

21. Herbert Marcuse, One–Dimensional Man
22. Jurgen Habermas, Toward a Rational Society
23. Michel Foucault, Discipline and Punish

IV. SHIFTING THE PARADIGM: Excluded Voices, Alternative Knowledges

INTRODUCTORY ESSAY: WEB S OF KNOWLEDGE IN THE DIGITAL DIVIDE
The production of knowledge on the Internet is not as democratic as we might think. DuBois, Beauvoir, and more contemporary voices within critical race, postcolonial, and feminist thought remind us the same is true in social theory.

Classical Connections: W.E.B. DuBois and Simone de Beauvoir

26. Simone de Beauvoir, The Second Sex
Contemporary Extensions: Paradigms Re-Wired

27. Michael Omi and Howard Winant, Racial Formation in the United States
28. Frantz Fanon, Black Skin, White Masks
29. Edward Said, Orientalism
30. Dorothy Smith, The Conceptual Practices of Power
31. Patricia Hill Collins, Black Feminist Thought

V. RISE OF THE AVATAR: Connecting Self and Society

INTRODUCTORY ESSAY: THROUGH THE LOOKING-GLASS OF FACEBOOK

Our Facebook profiles provide a glimpse of the collective foundations of our individual selves. Mead and Simmel lay the foundations for thinking about the social origins of the self, and Goffman, Foucault, and others provide provocative takes on what identity means in today’s complicated world.

Classical Connections: George Herbert Mead and Georg Simmel

32. George Herbert Mead, “Self”
33. Georg Simmel, “The Metropolis and Mental Life”
34. Georg Simmel, “The Stranger”

Contemporary Extensions: Identity Re-Wired

35. Erving Goffman, The Presentation of Self in Everyday Life
36. Michel Foucault, The History of Sexuality
37. Judith Butler, Gender Trouble
38. Zygmunt Bauman, “From Pilgrim to Tourist: or a Short History of Identity”
